Successful completion of a course at Off University is certified by the host university. This means that you are able to use these credits at any university in the EHEA in a programme you are enrolled in, or you may count this as previous knowledge in a future study programme. In order to be sure that you can transfer the credits, we suggest you get written confirmation by your home university's students' office. And if you are not enrolled in any university programme: You are very welcome to join! All our courses are free of charge and open to anyone: students, scholars, activists.

Description:

The course is distinct in its singular focus on the enduring conflict in Myanmar and the challenges and endeavours to secure justice for the victims from the transitional period (i.e., the partial civilian government during 2011-2021) to post-coup Myanmar (Feb 2021-present). It provides a comprehensive grasp of transitional justice and its implementation, with a specific spotlight on the prosecution process and a case study of Myanmar. This course is crafted to give participants the knowledge and skills to navigate the intricate terrain of transitional justice in Myanmar despite the legal and political hurdles.

The course is structured to inspire hope as it delves into the nature and causes of conflict in Myanmar and its local and global impacts. It offers a practical approach to understanding the concept of TJ and how it can potentially resolve the deep-rooted issues in Myanmar. By drawing lessons from the successes and failures of TJ implementation in various countries, we aim to provide you with the tools to explore practical solutions for a more promising future for post-conflict Myanmar.

The course is designed to be highly interactive, with sessions led by both instructors in a virtual classroom environment. Participants are strongly encouraged to come prepared by studying the assigned materials before each seminar. Active participation in the exercises during the session is not just expected but also a vital part of the learning process.
